Yanks Completing Mopping Up Jap Forces In Naha

Largest Airfield On Okinawa Is Under U.S. Attack

American Marines Are Completing Mopping Up Rubbled Capital Of Naha

YANKS SEEK TO ISOLATE SHURI

By JOHN R. HENRY
U.S. Staff Correspondent

GUAM, May 29.—Okinawa's largest airfield was brought within the gun sights of American Marines today as the Leathernecks completed mopping up practically all of the rubble of Naha and rolled to the edge of a narrow inlet separating them from Naha airdrome.

As elements of the Sixth Marine Division moved on the northern bank of the 30-yard-wide inlet, only a mile of ground and Nip defenses were between them and the sprawling field. The airdrome is situated on the peninsula across the bay from Naha.

The marine guns already were able to play into the town of Kuki-bara, lying on the opposite shore, and the leathernecks can drop even mortar fire into the already heavily bomb-pocked airfield.

Concentrate On New Target

While the elements of the Sixth Division concentrated on this new target, others of the division's troops hammered a wedge of envelopment deeper south of Naha in a continued effort to isolate Shuri. The latter bastion is already cut off from east, north and west.

Swinging south and slightly to the southeast, these marines threatened Shuri from the rear as did the Seventh Division standing two miles below that city. Paratroops of the veteran seventh division pressed out into Chiren peninsula which forms the southern shoreline of Baten bay.

MEMORIAL DAY. ODE

(Inspired by Corp. Edwin Grantham who died of wounds at Ardennes)

How shall we honor the dead this year—
With a wreath or a flag or a quiet tear?
Corporal Grantham, what do you say?
(His throat may be stopped with Ardennes clay.
He may not reply—but wait, do you hear
That voice? It is answering firm and clear.)

"Thanks! None of that hero stuff for me.
I was happy at home as a guy could be.
With a pretty wife and a job I liked
And a party sometimes where the drinks were spiked.
Fighting was not what I was born for—
But then came along this blasted war.

"They called me, I went. I fought and died.
My wife was brave, but I know she cried.
You know what I'd do to a man who dared
Make my wife sad or even scared.
All right, then, if you are asking me,
Here is what I would like to see.

"Remember the parents and kids their lives
Of all the fellows who gave their lives
Take care of our folks as we'd have done
But count battles lost that we have won
If you, with your wreaths and flags and tears,
Let another war come in a thousand years.

Corporal Grantham has had his say.
God help us to honor him just that way.
—Ken Woodman.

CONFERENCE NEAR CHARTER SIGNING

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—(INS)—The Big Five delegation chiefs were to meet today to clear their "stand-pat" interpretation of the Yalta veto formula for submission to the 49-nation world security conference.

Plans for the session of the major power leaders, made in the wake of Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius' foreign policy address, indicated that word finally had been received from the other four home governments.

Barring some last-minute change, formal announcement of the meeting will be made during the day to clear the decks for action on this one remaining issue before President Truman comes to San Francisco to close the historic charter conference.

Rehearse Charter-Signing

Work of the conference was so far advanced that the delegations yesterday participated in a "rehearsal" of the formal charter-signing ceremony in the Golden Gate city's opera house. The rehearsal was completed with Stettinius and a partial calling of the delegation roll.

Because of the wartime efforts which are still taking the time of many men, the annual Memorial Day program was held Sunday by the Veterans organizations of the city and hence there will be no public program here tomorrow.

Those who have holidays plan to spend them in useful pursuit while many will still be working in the industries supplying war materials. ### Senators Vote Down $2,500 Grab

House Members However Have Approved Own Salary Boost As "Expenses"

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—The happy, happy house and the proud, proud senate.

This was the characterization today by Sen. Overton (D-La.) after the senate had refused to vote $2500 annually for expenses of senators but left in the legislative appropriation bill a $2500 expense allowance for members of the house.

Peculiar Situation

The peculiar situation was brought about by the rule of "comity" between the two houses.

Under this rule, the house annually votes what it believes it should for expenses of the house. The senate automatically approves it.

Similarly, the house automatically approves what the senate votes. The senate buried by a vote of 43 to 9 an amendment giving senators $2500 a year. It also refused to vote itself a 15 per cent expense allowance under the "Little Steel" formula.

The legislative supply bill went to conference. But under the conference rules, the $2500 item for the house cannot be touched.

Seven More Jap Ships Are Sunk By U. S. Airmen

OKINAWA, May 29.—Two prizes of Fleet Airwing One ranged deeply over enemy waters and today were credited with sinking seven Jap ships, including a destroyer and damaging two others in harbors of southern Korea.

The toll of enemy shipping was taken in a single mission but comprised five separate actions ranging over 100 miles of sea.

Sunk were a destroyer, five freighters and a 1,200-ton schooner. Three other freighters were damaged, one of which had been previously sunk.

All ships sunk except the destroyer were sent to the bottom by low-level strafing and bombing attacks. The destroyer, caught with another vessel of the same type, was headed for Japan when it suffered a direct hit from a 1,000-pound bomb. The second destroyer escaped when the privateers ran out of bombs and ammunition.

More Cutbacks In Munitions Program Soon

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—WPA Chairman J. A. Krug announced today that another large reduction in American munitions program can be expected within a few weeks and further small cutbacks in the succeeding months.

Krug's disclosure was made in a report showing that total munitions output in April was one per cent behind schedule compared with a four per cent deficit in March.

Future Cutbacks Coming

Future cutbacks will be spread unevenly, he explained in presenting the following outline:

Guns and the control will decline 40 per cent from April to December and ships 74 per cent. Aircraft and aircraft engine production will drop less than one per cent.

Ammunition will be 12 per cent above the April level by the fourth quarter. Other gains are scheduled for rockets, bombs, naval ammunition, and mortar shells.

For the overall program, Krug disclosed that May production schedule is pegged one per cent below April and a decrease of 13 per cent for the fourth quarter with additional reductions in 1946.

Concerning April production shifts, it was reported that there were 249 cutbacks in 308 war plants during the month with a value of three billion dollars.

Approximately 31 per cent of the reductions represented paper cutbacks or schedules not begun. Only 8 per cent will have an effect on production before July. It was pointed out.

Chinese Forces Drive Into Japan's Cross-China Lifeline To Singapore

CHUNGKING, May 29.—(INS)—Chinese forces battled along the approaches to Pinyin northeast of the captured Kwangsi Province today to drive into Japan's cross-China lifeline to Indo-China and Singapore.

Mopping-up operations continued in the vicinity of Nanning, with enemy groupings surrounded on the south bank of the Yunkiang river. The north bank has been cleared of Japanese troops, the Chinese 14th command announced.

Chinese Advance

In Northern Kwangsi, other Chinese units drove toward Ishan after pushing across the Kwaiyang river east of Hsianyan-Chen. Large quantities of war material were captured by the Chinese in this area.

In Western Hunan Chinese troops reached an area 12 miles west of Paoching after a six-mile advance along the highway toward Paoching. Continued contact with the enemy north of the highway was reported.

South of Shansien in Western Hunan, the north two enemy points fell to Chinese units advancing to within 14 miles of the river. Forces in Southern Hunan are engaged in bitter fighting west of Hsianakna after hammering out gains of less than a mile.

Students Will Honor Shenango Servicemen At Service Tomorrow

Cpl. Carl Sager, Rev. Walter Gilliland, Rev. G. E. Shaffer To Have Part In Program

Parents of Shenango servicemen will be honor guests at the Memorial Day program which will take place Wednesday morning in front of the honor roll on the Shenango high school lawn.

Following the singing of the National Anthem by the student body, George Terzo will explain the origin of Memorial Day, and the mixed chorus under the direction of Chester Kyle will sing "God of Our Fathers." Memorial Day Not to Glory War will be the subject of a talk by Jack Badger, after which the primary group will present the Children's Offering.

A due by Julie Tull and Marjorie Newton will continue the program, preceding the reading of a poem, "Memorial Day," by Floyd Cotton, and the singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" by the mixed chorus. Another poem will be read by Karina Drake, and a solo "Lord, God of Hosts" will be sung by Mr. Kyle.

Rev. Walter Gilliland will read the scripture passage and give the memorial address, with Rev. G. E. Shaffer offering prayer. A wreath in honor of the Shenango men who have been killed will be placed before the honor roll by Cpl. Carl Sager, a former Shenango student who has just returned from India. Concluding the program, the Lutz sisters will sing "Sleep, Soldier, Sleep," followed by "Taps" by Dale McKissock and the benediction.

B-29 BOMBERS IN GIANT RAIDS SET YOKOHAMA AFIRE

may's 21st Bomber Command Superforts in the steadily rising crescendo of American aerial might.

The Marianas-based B-29's soared over three vital sectors of Yokohama in mid-morning, raining their fire cargoes down on the city's great automotive industry to the north; docks, piers and warehouses of Yokohama harbor in the center, and the modern commercial and residential section to the southeast, where the population numbers 30,000 per square mile.

Vast Industries

"Radio Tokyo belatedly acknowledged the Yokohama strike this morning, declaring that the raid continued for an hour and a half.

The "extent of damage caused was being 'checked up,' the enemy radio declared, and then added that Japanese interceptors and anti-aircraft batteries had "fiercely and effectively" counter-attacked.

"The enemy raiders lost a considerable number of planes to our interceptors before they fled toward the sea from the direction of Kashiwa Straits," the enemy broadcast claimed.

In the center of Yokohama's great harbor is the vast Mitsubishi Industries plant, Japan's fourth largest shipbuilding yard, built on a reclaimed strip of land.

The targets of the Superforts, however, were primarily the automotive industry to the north and the priority targets along the bay shore within the city limits.

Blazing Inferno

Guam, May 29. Yokohama was described today as a blazing inferno with smoke rising to more than 20,000 feet over upwards of 450 Superfortresses staged the first major sky assault against Japan's fifth largest city.

Returning pilots said visibility was good and described flak fire as heavy "in spots." The American planes shot off what interceptors reported the Japs had to offer.

"The southern part of the target area, probably the commercial core of Yokohama adjacent to principal piers, was burning like hell," said First Lieut. Frank Kliesen, Ford City, Pa.

Kliesen piloted the Superfort City of Oklahoma City over the target.

A strong wind seemed to be blowing the fires," he added. Heavy black smoke billowed up from an oil storage beneath us."

New Castle Gunner in Raid

Sgt. Edward Bender, New Castle, Pa., gunner aboard one of the Superforts, said:

"Smoke was heavier than 20,000 feet. Thick flak fire was moderate but not too accurate."

This was the first B-29 snafu at Yokohama, flying just 20 miles south of Tokyo, which was still under attack from two terrific Superfort raids last week.

In another raid, the Japanese navy, including the submarine Kaitaka, took advantage of the air break in bad weather, which for the previous two days had shrouded the Okinawa area.

Marines Batter Was Forward
Regardless of the adverse weather and the cloudy streams and mountains, the Fifth Army's progress was making "substantial progress" in the same campaign. Nimitz reported that Japanese air force, in an attack on American troops, had shot down one B-29 Superfort and a P-51 Mustang.

The Japs took a big price tag for shooting down fighters in a night 24-hour period, similar to the same over in several waves during Shuri's air.

Death Sentence Again Imposed Upon Kidnaper

LOUISVILLE, May 29.—(INS)—Federal Judge S. M. Miller today re-imposed a life term on John H. Robinson, Jr., 36, in the electric chair at Kentucky State Penitentiary for the 1934 kidnapping of Mrs. Beatrice V. Smith of Louisville.

Robinson, who pleaded guilty to the $50,000 kidnap, was sentenced to life in prison for the second time after being released on parole in 1937.

He had pleaded guilty to the kidnap of the wife of a prominent Louisville physician, Dr. H. H. Miller, in 1934.

A Thought for Memorial Day

Memorial Day is a day when we remember the brave men and women who gave their lives for our country. It is a day when we pause to reflect on the sacrifices they made for our freedom and the peace we enjoy today.

Let us take a moment to think of those who have given their lives for us, and let us strive to live up to the ideals they stood for. Let us be grateful for the freedom we have, and let us work to make our country a better place for all.

Memorial Day is a day of remembrance, and it is a day when we should all pause to reflect on the sacrifices of our brave men and women.

THEY USED TO CALL HER FATTY

Almost unbelievable loss of weight is possible for most overweight people through a pleasant, absolutely harmless, reducing method. While eating plenty, it is possible to take off as much as three to five unsightly pounds a week. No exercise, no starvation diet, no reducing drugs or cathartics are necessary for those who seek to regain a graceful youthful figure. In fact, the "Femur" Way is so confidently recommended that you may try it without taking a penny. You and your friends must marvel at the exciting improvement in your appearance; you must get the results you seek in 10 days, or your money will be refunded in full. I say to follow directions with every package. Buy a 10-day package.

Words Of Wisdom

It is not money, as some people say, but the love of money—the excessive selfish covetous love of money—that is the root of all evil.

There is a lake in British East Africa (Masai Lakes) when even though it is near the equator, it is frozen solid the whole year round.

Members Of Senior Class On Honor Roll Guests At Luncheon In The Castleton Monday

J. LEE McFATE EXPLAINS ROTARY

New Castle Rotary Club was host to the honor students of the spring graduating class of Senior high school, following their custom which has come down through the years.

The class heard an interesting talk on what Rotary stands for and some of its accomplishments, given by J. Lee McFate, past president of the New Castle Club and Past District Governor.

Originally founded to promote friendship between men, it added service to its obligations, and has spread to 49 countries throughout the world, Mr. McFate pointed out.

Trained Many Men

It has trained many men to become leaders in their communities and pointed out that many of the men now engaged in leading community activities, which give service to various efforts without compensation, are Rotarians.

The Rotary Club member attempts to achieve the Golden Rule in all his dealings with his fellowmen and keeps the Rotary motto: He profits most, who serves best, before him.

Seventy men who were guests of the club luncheon, S-Sgt. J. William Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Olson, of 423 Leaside avenue, who lost his leg when he suffered serious wounds in France last September while serving with the 79th Division. He is now able to get along nicely by use of the artificial limb furnished him by the government.

Sgt. Olson is home on a 30-day leave.

Others from Deshon Annex, included: Pvt. Donald Hassinger, of State College, Pa., who was wounded in Luxembourg, while serving with the Fifth Division; and Cpl. Carmen Dimarto, of Philadelphia, who was wounded in Germany while serving with the 30th Division.

Members of Class Presented

Members of the class were introduced by Principal Clara B. Book, a Rotarian, in the absence of the class supervisor, Miss Adelaide Miller, who was unable to be present for the luncheon.

Those honored were: Gladys Fadina Ahmed, Margaret Jane Baatz, Eugene William Baer, Jo Ann Brown, Marie Orlando Catone, Joan May Cox, Lanna Catherine Cheers, James Frank Demos, Hazel L. Gay, Sandra Lee Hogue, Nancy Ellen Lehman, Eileen Helen Masten, Helen L. McQuinn, Martha C. McQuinn, Lucetta Mae Morgan, James Tacy Osterling, William Albert Pell, Joanne Elvinda Rapson, Patricia Ann Shinn, Penelope Spaulding, Theresa Florence Wagner, Shirley Blanche Weber, M. Helen Winkler, June Mary Young, Helen Zakra, Joan Ann Zarina.

were rolled up. The door of the plane opened and a fragile old lady tottered down the steps.

"It is a great pleasure to greet you," said the marshal, an interpreter rapidly translating. "Mother Russia greets the mother of the president of the United States. Our sons have fought together against the common enemy."

"The day of victory in Europe has come. We shall now work together to insure the peace of the world. At San Francisco we offered you a Molotov cocktail as a pledge of our friendship."

"Here we give you the freedom of the city, a free press and the homage of a free people with only the customary exceptions and with assurances that although Poles apart geographically and politically we are united in our hatred of Fascism—in Europe."

Fiddlesticks, Mister Stalin, said the sweet old lady.

The interpreter at her elbow promptly translated this as follows:

It is with great pleasure, Marshal Stalin, that I extend to you the right hand of diplomatic friendship in Europe, with the left hand of lend-lease held in reserve for the enemies of Fascism everywhere.

To this, after a hurried consultation with his aides, the marshal replied.

There may be minor differences of policy regarding the part to be played in a new world by such nations as I say, Argentina or Japan? But we are as one in our determination that democracy and freedom shall be the ruling principles of the new world order which shall insure peace and opportunity for self-advancement to all liberty-loving peoples throughout the world."

Local Flier Freed From Prison Camp

8-Sgt. E. "Sam" Monaco, Turret Gunner, Awaits Transportation Home

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Monaco of 340 East Division street have received word from their son, 8-Sgt. Eugene "Sam" Monaco, stating that he had been liberated by the Russian forces on May 1 from a Nazi prison camp. He is now at Le Havre, France, awaiting transportation by boat to the U. S.

The war correspondent had reported Sgt. Monaco missing October 11, 1944 and word from him on December 7 said he was a German prisoner.

This letter is the first word from Sgt. Monaco since January 29, 1945. He joined the service in December 1943 and was overseas in 1944. He was a bombardier and turret gunner on a B-24 Liberator. He is a graduate of New Castle high school, June 1943.

There are three brothers in service. Joseph, yeoman 3-c in Pacific; Arnold A. Monaco, S. 1-c, somewhere in the Pacific; and Roger, Monaco, P. 2-c in Atlantic service.

WEATHERMAN SAYS SHOWERS WEDNESDAY

PITTSBURGH, May 29.—(INS)—Showers today were forecast for Memorial Day for Western Pennsylvania by Weatherman W. S. Brotzman.

Brotzman predicted that the showers will begin tonight or tomorrow with a low tonight of about 50.

A heavy rainstorm late yesterday drenched the Pittsburgh district, bringing the mercury down from 78 to 71 degrees in less than an hour. Automobile and trolley traffic was hampered by the downpour which flooded many intersections when sewers became clogged by debris.

The social committee served a splendid lunch.

Next meeting on Monday, June 11.

Governor Signs Bill Increasing Pay Of Teachers

Also Signs Bill Authorizing Commonwealth To Free Ten Toll Bridges

HARRISBURG, May 29.—(INS)—Legislation increasing teachers salaries at an estimated cost of $24,000,000 during the next two years, was approved today by Gov. Edward Martin.

Simultaneously, the governor signed a bill authorizing the commonwealth to free 10 toll bridges at an estimated cost of $7,000,000.

The salary bill provided increases for approximately 50,000 of Pennsylvania's 61,000 teachers.

All teachers except those above the elementary grades in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia were placed in line for wage boosts. The wage schedule, effective July 1, places Pennsylvania's elementary teachers at $1,000 a year during the 1945-46 biennium, beginning June 1 at $127,000,000.

George Young, of Washington, chairman of the school commission, said the teachers salary bill "marks the beginning of a new era for the public schools of the commonwealth."

The new plans of distributing state funds is revolutionary in the sense that it breaks with all precedent. Young stated. "The new plan in equalizing and inequalities in the past are eliminated."

Sound Formation
"It is my belief that the Martin system has a sound and solid foundation for a better, more thorough and more efficient system of public schools," he added.

Minimum salaries for elementary teachers of $1400 a year were proposed in all districts. The salary program retained the cost of living increases granted by the general assembly in 1943 at an expense of $27,000,000. Wage expenditures for the 1945-47 biennium were estimated at $145,000,000.

Teachers in all districts who have earned masters degrees will receive two additional annual increments of $100 each after exceeding the yearly increases granted in the bill.

Each school district will be guaranteed $600 in state funds for each "teaching unit" of 22 high school pupils and 30 elementary students to add to the funds collected by counties for education under a five mill tax of "assessed" valuations.

Combined state aid and county taxes was designed to provide $1,800 for each teaching unit during the 1946-47 school year and $2,000 thereafter.

Lt. A. L. Clapie Back In England

Former Local Airman, Prisoner Of War, Released And Back In England

Mrs. Alice Clapie of 445 East Washington street has received word of the release of her grandson, Second Lieut. Albert L. Clapie, attached to the Eighth Air Force, and he is back in England.

Word was received from the War Department February 26, 1944, he was missing in action February 10, 1944. A card from Lt. Clapie was received April 8, 1944 stating he was a prisoner of war in Germany.

The last word from Lt. Clapie was received February 28, 1944, the letter being dated November 28, 1944. He has been in the service over four years and overseas almost twenty months. He attends New Castle High school.

Lieut. Clapie is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Clapie of New Brighton, attached to the Bell Telephone Company, formerly of this city.

Relax Controls On Some Construction

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(INS)—WPB construction controls were relaxed today to permit small industrial, commercial and home construction to be undertaken without specific WPB authorization.

The board amended its construction regulation to increase the cost of ceilings of permitted construction work by about five times the former ceiling.

The amended WPB regulation permits construction or repair work on one-family houses up to $1000. Multiple family dwellings of from two to five units will have cost limits of $1000 per unit. The cost limit for all groups formerly was $200.

The value of construction work on offices, banks, theaters and other commercial establishments which may be made without WPB approval has been raised from $200 to $5000.

JOBS FOR VETS

Returning war veterans will seek jobs or business opportunities exactly in accordance with the pattern or way of life they understood before they left for war. They will not stand any pampering. They will stand on their rights as citizens who understand the meaning of the word freedom. To meet this situation with any sort of satisfaction demands the fullest exercise of common sense in the handling of veterans affairs.

This will be given priority by me when elected to City Council because I believe that a city with New Castle's production potentialities if undermanned from military taxation and political interference can go through the reconstruction period with a peak employment average.

Having served as 1st Lt. Infantry, U. S. Army, I feel that I am qualified to help with the problems of the returned service men and women.

Ardennes Offensive Repulse Jolted Hitler

By FRANK CONNIE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HAMBURG, May 29.—Hitler went to pieces mentally when the Nazi Ardennes offensive splintered against determined American defenses, a leading Nazi journalist asserted today.

For the first time the Fuehrer lost his self-confidence in his ability to lead Germany toward victory and he never recovered it, said Dr. Adolf Halffeld, editor of the influential Hamburg newspaper, Freienblatt.

The Ardennes booming so enraged Hitler, Halffeld said, that he almost executed Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, then head of the Luftwaffe, because the airforce provided only 700 planes for the offensive instead of the 1,800 Goering had guaranteed.

Goering In Fear

As a result of this threat, Goering went around with a heavy bodyguard of picked paratroopers and Luftwaffe men in constant fear that Hitler might order his liquidation.

Halffeld asserted that Hitler really believed that a "miracle" of divine providence saved his life when the bomb plot against his life failed last year.

"Now I'll plan the battle to lead Germany to victory," Hitler exulted, according to Halffeld. He said Hitler studied battle maps for days waiting for his intuition to get working. Then one day in September he pointed his finger at Ardennes and said:

"There's where we will counter-attack."

Field Marshal Karl Gerd von Rundstedt was placed in charge of planning the campaign and the general staff stipulated that 1,800 planes would be necessary to support the drive.

Goering was called in and asked if he could provide that many. "Jawohl, mein Fuehrer," the portly air chief said.

Only 800 Provided

But only 800 planes were available when the drive stepped off on December 15.

The overwhelming success of the drive in its early phases, confirmed Hitler's faith that providence was directing him and jubilation reigned at headquarters.

But when veteran American divisions began to hit back at crack SS divisions and the drive eventually was stalemated, Hitler's belief in himself waned.

"He never recovered," Halffeld said. "He really counted on the Ardennes drive to split the Allies and pave the way for a favorable peace."

The Russian breakthrough in January didn't upset him so much as the Ardennes failure.

Two More Nazis Leaders' Bodies Are Identified

NEW YORK, May 29.—(INS)—The British Broadcasting Corporation said today that it had been announced officially in Oslo that the bodies of Josef Terboven, German commissioner in Norway, and William Redess, Norwegian Gestapo chief, had been definitely identified.

The London broadcast, heard by Blue network, said that two bodies found recently in a wrecked air raid shelter in Oslo were believed to be those of Terboven and Redess. Now, the broadcast added, it has been established that Redess shot himself and Terboven blew himself up with the shelter.

Pour out your might, America!

in the MIGHTY

7th WAR LOAN

The Biggest Drive in America's History

Why YOU ... everybody ... must do more than ever before

IN ALL theaters of war more than eleven million of our fighting men must be fed, clothed, sheltered, armed. And the medical needs are at a staggering, all time high.

In the Pacific, as our fighting forces push on toward Tokyo, the demand for more and more supplies becomes greater.

That means all America must pour out its might in the MIGHTY 7th WAR LOAN.

By this time last year you were twice called upon to buy extra War Bonds. This is the first time your country has called upon you in 1945. That's why this is really two great war loans in one. The Marines didn't count the cost at Iwo. We can't count the cost at home.

Study the chart at the left. See what your country expects you to do in the 7th War Loan. Remember, you are part of America—a part of America's might! Pour out your might in the mighty 7th War Loan ... for yourself ... for your country ... for Victory!

ARMY A. T. C.

The army air transport command, the world's greatest aerial network, celebrates its fourth anniversary today.

Organized in the spring of 1941, the ATC a year later took over more than half the nation's commercial airline equipment, absorbed the army air services command's cargo division, the army services of supply's air transportation division and the ferry command.

Within a few short months, an aerial supply network covering most of the world was formed and speedily began the huge task of linking fighting fronts all over the world with Washington and supply centers in the United States.

Mail, passengers and goods were carried to the remotest battlefields in matters of hours when days and sometimes weeks were previously required. Vital war goods were ferried, often in the nick of time, to vital spots.

Now that phase of the ATC's work in Europe at least is largely finished but still the air transport command's work in that theater goes on.

Its massive planes are turning to the transportation of army personnel being brought home and redeployed to the Pacific.

The war against Japan is still to be won and the ATC must continue and expand its services in that theater, over the world's longest air-line.

Thus the ATC, pioneering since 1942, points the way toward vast postwar expansion of world aviation.

Berlin in Germany during the first half of 1944 were reported to have shown an increase of 8 per cent over the first half of 1943.

New York Now Receiving Center For Eager GI's

Thousands Stream Into Port
For "Short Stay," And
Then Home For Furlough

By DAN O'LEARY
N. Y. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 29.—The New York port of embarkation, which saw three million men abroad in the past year, is now receiving the process today.

It is no longer a port of embarkation, but a port of disembarkation, through which thousands of American soldiers are returning every day from Europe.

Many of them, of course, will go on with the grim job of destroying Japan. Others are wounded. But they are all equally glad to get home.

At the New York Harbor, M. G. McGowan, commanding general of the port, has a pretty shrewd psychology about handling them.

Steals and Ice Cream

It is not that the returning GI's are T-bone steaks and men thick enough to do with swimming patches of gold and gallons of ice cream, as a reward to the welcome around them, they are going home on furlough.

But before they get to the steaks and the ice cream, they have been given a little of the welcome they returned home to.

Instead of being checked at the boat, a character looking like

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache

Many soldiers return home with backache, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be their kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's "cash and carry" for the excess acids and waste out of the body. They help most people pass about 15 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up late, swelling, puffiness around the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent urination, passing with stinging and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Victor MacLaglen, the returning soldier, is serenaded by a WAC band. He then gives his personal history to a beautiful girl in a WAC uniform who has been busy checking the passenger list.

WAC Welcome

Another WAC gives him a copy of "Welcome Home," official publication of the New York port of embarkation.

"Soldier! Your stay is short at the New York port of embarkation!"

"We have sampled their opinion pretty thoroughly," Gen. Groninger says, "and their chief desire is to pass through the port as quickly as possible. In this connection, the soldier's desire is our desire."

Gen. Groninger and the army both mean it when they say that the soldier's stay at the port of return should be as brief as possible.

Obviously there are things to be done. Physical checkups, papers to be filled out. But Groninger is proud of the fact that the average man stays no longer than 24 to 36 hours in camp. It's too good to get home to have that procedure held up by red tape.
